

Femme Aid Collaborative

Femme Aid Collaborative provides monthly menstrual hygiene products to those in need in the Dayton, Ohio community.

A Letter from April Mescher, Executive Director, in response to Period Partner's recent donation:

“Many people in the Dayton community are having to make tough choices daily and with unemployment, skyrocketing, feeding your family, keeping a roof over your head and staying healthy are our #1 top priorities. And in times of crisis, menstrual hygiene products don't make the list of priority items. Unfortunately, some of our citizens will find themselves homeless and at St. Vincent de Paul Dayton shelter. With help from Hospeco and Period Partner®, Femme Aid Collaborative was able to supply 65,000 period pieces to St. Vincent de Paul Dayton to help support their emergency remote shelters they have had to set up for social distancing. The shelter is committed to staying open as well as maintaining these several satellite locations as long as necessary to flatten the COVID-19 infection curve but it's stretching their already tight resources.

Erin Carey, Assistant Director of Mission Advancement for St. Vincent de Paul Society, says Femme Aid Collaborative is a gift to the Dayton St. Vincent de Paul community. “We sheltered over 1,000 women in 2019, and Femme Aid helped ensure that each guest had access to appropriate feminine hygiene products,” Carey says. “We are blessed to have a partner that provides such an important necessity for those we serve.”

Hospeco and Period Partner® have helped our Dayton community through the devastating tornados in 2019 and now are helping to support our community through this pandemic. You are there when we need help and Femme Aid Collaborative could NOT be doing this work at the level we are without you. THANK YOU Hospeco and Period Partner®.”
